The Fulton School Announces its 2011-12 Board of Trustees

HEATH, TEXAS, September 12, 2011 —The Fulton School, a college preparatory school for children ages three through 12th grade, announced its board of trustees for the 2011-2012 academic year. The board oversees the strategic planning, policies, and financial management of the school in order to advance Fulton’s mission which is to ignite a lifelong passion for learning, inspire self-discovery, instill civic leadership, and motivate its students to continually pursue excellence.

“By design, Fulton’s Board of Trustees is comprised of a dynamic group of distinguished professionals representing expertise in a variety of disciplines. Each member brings a unique perspective and immense passion to the board, and I’m excited to see the advancements we will make this year on behalf of the school,” shared Mary Crutchfield, M.D., president of The Fulton School Board of Trustees.

In addition to Dr. Crutchfield, who is a psychiatrist at the Lakewood Group, the board’s officers are Vice President Robert Hunt, Ph.D., director of global theology education at Southern Methodist University, and Treasurer and Secretary Suzanne S. Nash, co-founder of The Fulton School and owner of Champions Management. Additional board members are Matthew Burgy, head of school at The Fulton School (ex-officio member); M. Shannon Dalton, engagement analyst at CompuCom Inc.; Bart Davenport, president of First Century Development; John V. Duca, Ph.D., senior economist and vice president at the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank; Georgie Fulton Green, educator, co-founder of The Shelton School and vice president of Windswept Place LLC; Harry Meyers, attorney at law, retired certified public accountant (CPA) and president of Myers Consulting Group LLC; Melissa Hicks, president of Mosaic Marketing; Roger Perry, headmaster of Lakehill Preparatory School; Tom Perryman, assistant head of school for Greenhill School; Molly Fulton Seeligson, head of The Fulton School 2000-2005 and director of Eugene McDermott Scholars Program at the University of Texas at Dallas; Steve Wingard, managing member of Nexus Advisors, LLC; and Andrea Vanderpool Ph.D., PLLC, licensed psychologist.
