The Fulton School Hosts Preschool Open House Week

HEATH, TEXAS, October 5, 2011 —For the past 25 years, The Fulton School has built a reputation as one of the top preschools in the area for children ages three, four, and five. Unlike many schools, Fulton’s preschool teachers have college degrees and are certified in early childhood development, preschool classes are limited to just 14 students to ensure individualized attention, and students have the opportunity to continue their education at the school through 12th grade.

The advantages of preschool are significant and long-lived. "Children who attend high-quality preschool enter kindergarten with better pre-reading skills, richer vocabularies, and stronger basic math skills than those who do not," said Steven Barnett, Ph.D., director of the National Institute for Early Education Research. In addition, research shows that preschool serves children later in life as well. According to Dr. Barnett, children who attend high quality preschool achieve higher test scores, have better social skills, are less likely to repeat a grade, are more likely to graduate from high school, and enjoy increased earnings.

At Fulton, the progressive curriculum focuses on language, reading, math, science, Spanish, physical education, computers, music and art. In addition, Fulton’s teachers enhance students’ social skills, gross and fine motor skills, and cultivate a love of learning in a fun, creative environment.

“I am so thrilled with my daughter’s experience at Fulton. Julia is in her third year at the school, and she has just blossomed thanks to the incredible teachers and small classes. In fact, Julia recently tested in the top three percent of students in the United States on the Stanford Achievement Test,” shared Dana Johnson.

Parents have the option to select two-days, three-day or five-days a week with preschool classes beginning at 8:30 a.m. and concluding at 3:00 p.m. Fulton also offers affordable, on-site extended care beginning at 7:30 a.m. and concluding at 6:00 p.m.

The Fulton School will host a preschool open house from 9:00 until 2:00 daily on October 10th through the 14th at which time interested parents and their children can tour the bucolic 16-acre campus, discuss the curriculum, and visit classrooms to observe the students and teachers in action. Parents are encouraged to reserve a tour by contacting Megan Gray, director of development, at 972.772.4445.
